ADDITIONAL NOTES

- Certification: References and verifications of all organizations, work positions, and skills are available upon request. The information above is correct to the best of my knowledge.
- Assumption: I assume that you are an Equal Opportunity Employer under applicable U.S. and Canadian rights legislation or by the laws of the country I am applying in (e.g. Bangladesh, Saudi Arabia, UAE, Egypt, Malaysia, Singapore, Philippines, UK, Hong Kong).
- Underqualification: I believe I have the sufficient skills necessary for the position I am applying for, and in case you are not satisfied by my qualifications mentioned above, you are requested to allow me to prove my skills in a duration of an unpaid probation period.
- Overqualification: I believe I am qualified for this role so I deserve to have a chance at this role. You must not think or wrongly assume that I might switch to a different job or employer after only staying for a few months or years at your organization; if you can allow me to become an ideal employee for the role I have applied in, you can expect me to stay for as long as you would wish. Salary expectations are not an issue for me as I agree to what has been stated in your "hiring" post on social media, and I will only ask for a raise if I am a valuable asset to your business. Unlike other candidates, I am very realistic and motivated to work passionately with a desire for self-development as well as business growth. I can be both a team leader or a team player depending on your instructions. I am eager to try out new activities, no matter how great or small. Equally, I welcome changes and I am dynamic enough to calibrate with any rules provided with utmost discipline. This is who I am, and this is how I like to progress through my career and income desires.
